VOLUME XLVII

Foreword

A silhouette is an outlined figure shaded in with dark sketching or color. Before high school our lives are simply an outlined figure with nothing filling them. High school begins the many years of planning our lives to meet certain goals. What we do now will reflect upon our lives for many years to come. It is not too late to begin filling in our silhouette with that which we will be proud. High school is just the beginning; significant and unlimited roads are ahead. Norwood High tries to acquaint the students with the decisions and the hardships of the future. This book is published with the intention of representing a silhouette of Norwood High School, and with the hope it will parallel our own reminiscences.

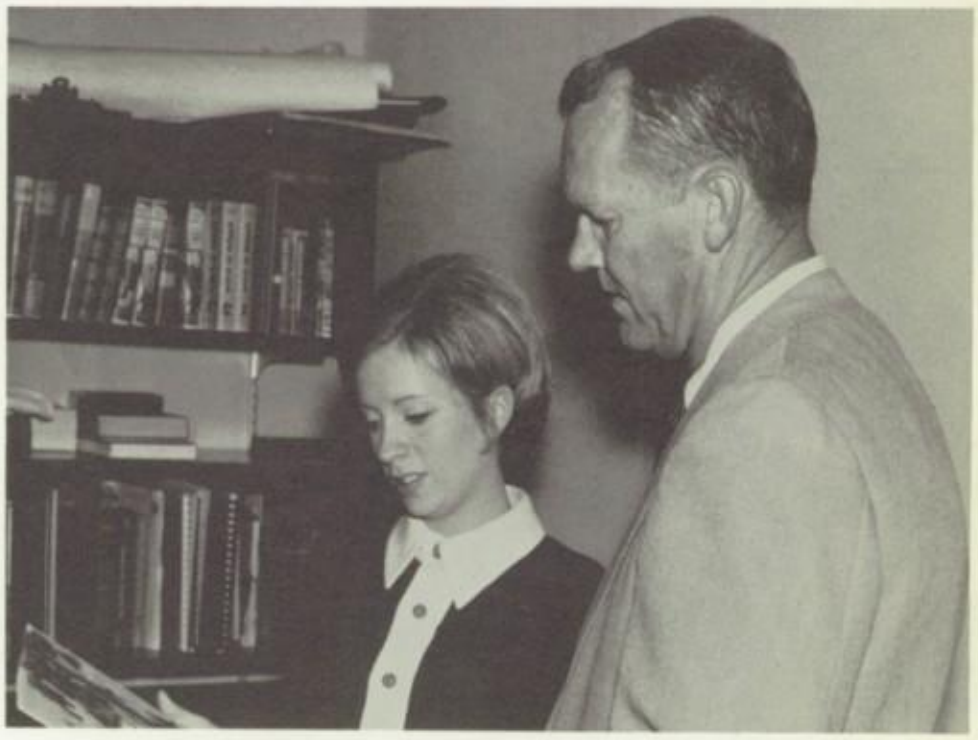
Academics

Norwood High School has been equipped with a teaching staff who not only spent many hours a day instructing students in the classroom but invested much of their time with extra curricular activities. This time consisted of several hours a week supplying the students with helpful answers and ideas for running an organization with ease and efficiency. With the guidance of those teachers, who may be credited with such practices, the students learned fellowship, organization, parliamentary procedure, respect for others' wishes, and a true meaning of Norwood High School. This knowledge attained will be applied in future years. To those teachers we dedicate this book with gratitude and a sincere thank you.

Mr. Geselbracht listens to one of many who enters his office.



Principal seeks new future.

As principal, Mr. Geselbracht's main duties are the formation of school policy and supervision of the teaching staff. However, this year he has spent a great deal of his time advising the architect in the planning of the new school. After consultations with each department head, the general construction plans were completed and a model made for presentation to the voters. Mr. Geselbracht was largely responsible for student organization for the passage of the bond issue. Now that the new school is a certainty, more detailed plans can be completed. Mr. Geselbracht wants new ideas in education brought into the new building. Plans include a schedule more comparable to a college format. Some classes would meet three times per week for different periods of time. There would be no regular study halls and homerooms would no longer exist. The cafeteria would not only be much larger, but would be open all day as a place for relaxation. Perhaps the most outstanding feature is the new library. Individual study carrels would be provided where students could use tapes, records, and films. Mr. Geselbracht will be directing the future of Norwood's students.

Communication is important in Mr. Geselbracht's agenda.

Administration supervises student problems.

Mr. Kistler examines his morning correspondence.

The students of Norwood High School are guided in the educational and vocational fields through the concentrated efforts of the administrative staff. Duties of Mr. Keith Lawson as assistant principal are divided between advising student council and pursuing student discipline. Organizing school activities is the concern of Miss Nell Griffin, student coordinator and assistant principal. The technical school and night school consumes much of the time of assistant principal Mr. Elton Kistler. Norwood is fortunate to have a dedicated administration.

Miss Griffin pauses from her work to talk to a student.

Mr. Lawson reviews a student record as he hurries to keep an appointment.

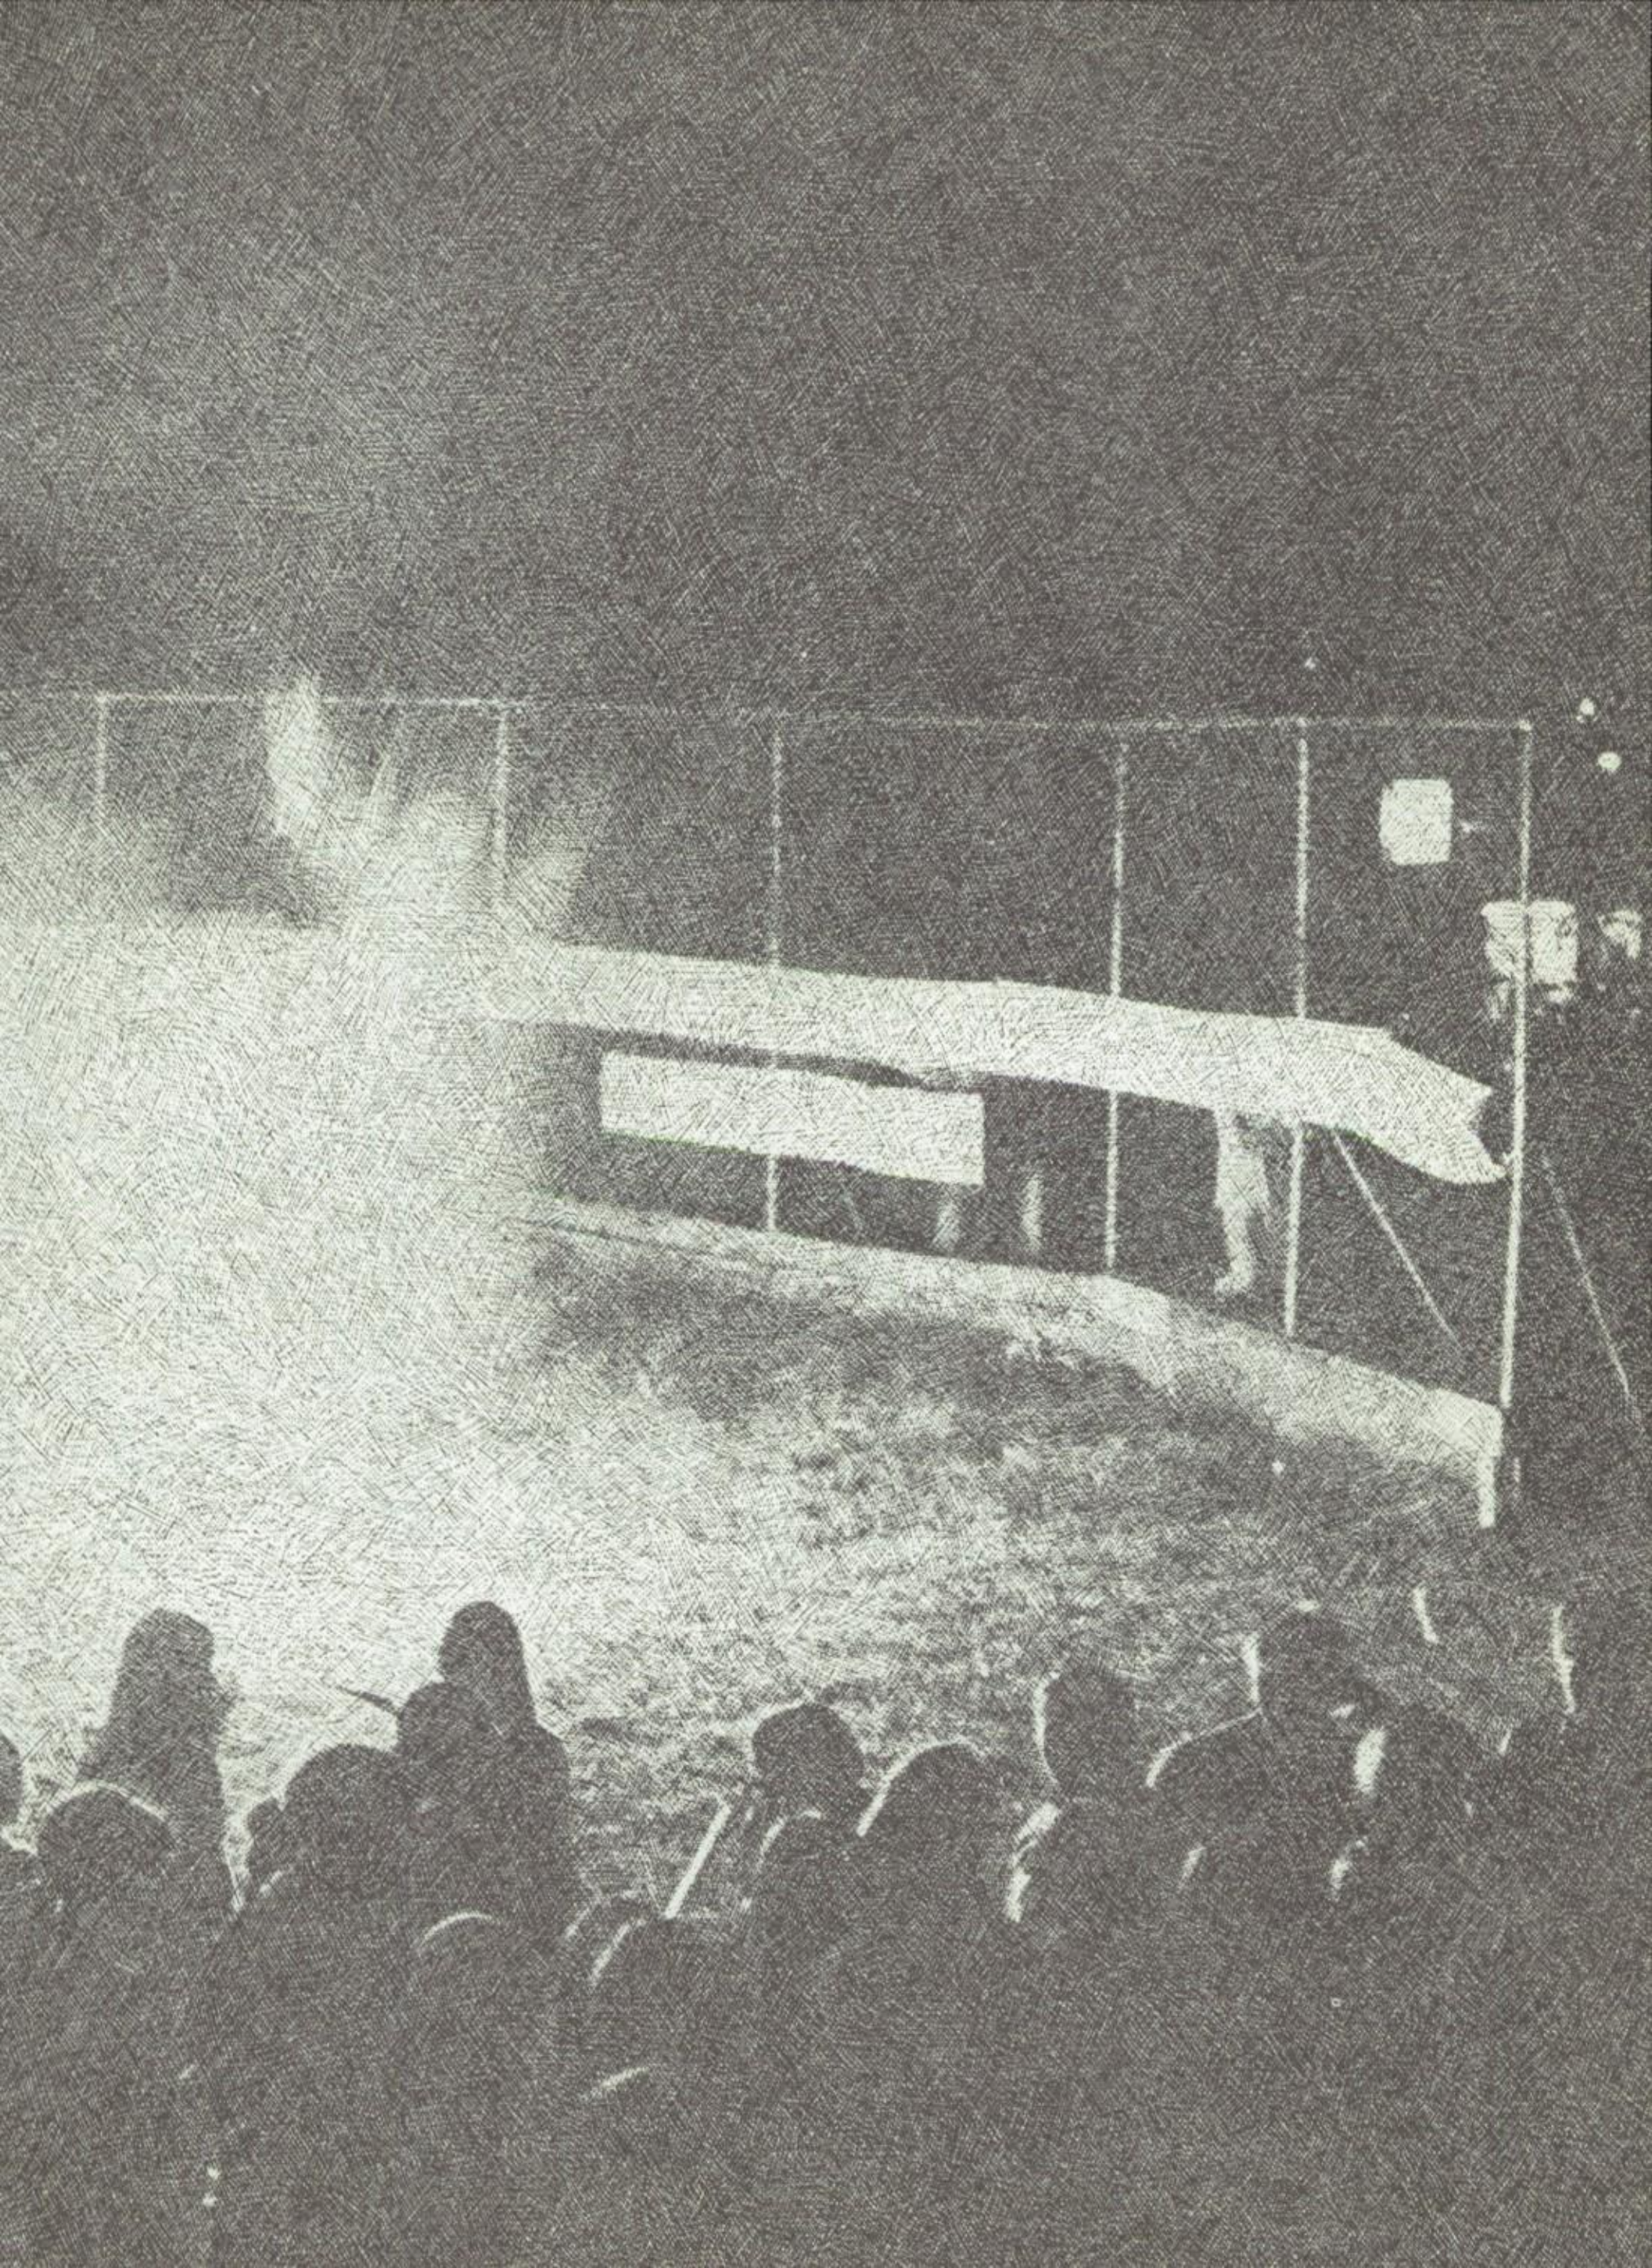
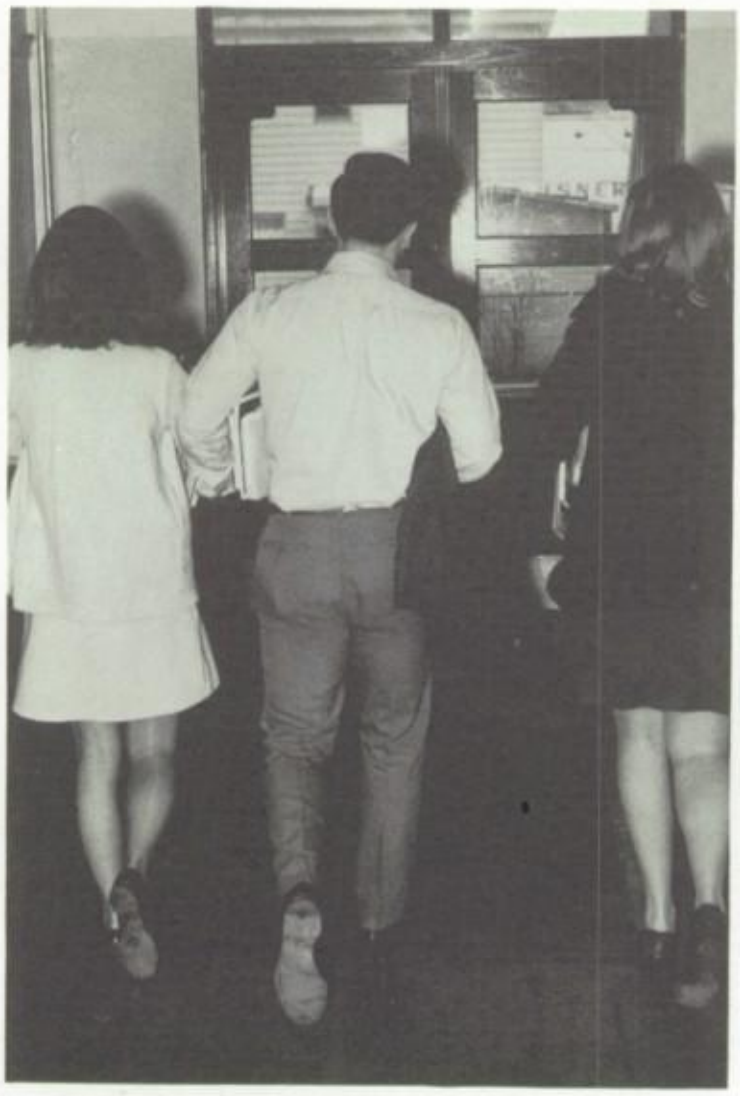
Board of Education guides schools.

The five members of the Board of Education meet each month to approve rules and determine the policies which govern the operation and the maintenance of the five Norwood elementary schools and the high school. Position as president and other offices are rotated each year. The schools' governing body is elected by the citizens of Norwood. Each member serves a four year term without compensation for his services. The superintendent, Mr. Brooks A. Parsons, is executive officer and recommends to the board members various policies and procedures on which the Board should take action. The major task of the Board of Education this year has been that of planning a new junior-senior high school complex and the remodeling of existing elementary school buildings. The cost of this project necessitated placing a bond issue before the voters. The bond issue passed and the Board of Education has new and better horizons for the future.

Students





The life of a Norwood High School student consists of various activities ranging from academic to extracurricular. His everyday agenda includes new friendships, challenges, reports, and plans for the future. Within the enclosure of the halls of Norwood, the student learns many basic elements that add to the completion of his silhouette. He learns responsibility, the power of a defeat and how to do better next time, how to accept success as a part of life, and continue to make his whole life a success. High school can be the turning point for an individual. The track is set and his decision is to stay in the right direction.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Newell Mastin, treasurer; Steve Schwankhaus, president; Larry Schneeman, vice president; and Lynn Noland, secretary.

Senior year finally arrived for Class of '70.

The Senior Class began as typical freshman, and slowly began to build unity in character. In their freshman year, the class defeated the Seniors in a traditional tug of war. They participated in many sports and had a good basketball team. One of the purposes of a class is to accumulate enough funds to finance the Junior Prom. The class sponsored many money-making projects to obtain these funds, and their prom was undoubtedly one of the most successful due to the classes' hard work and incentive. As Juniors, members of the class captured leads in the musical. Perhaps the most gratifying experience and service was the participation in the Bond Issue. This showed their pride and feelings toward what had been a major influence in their lives-Norwood High School.

Maturity, confidence, and vitality are typical

Though half the fun of competing in sports is seeing a group of united athletes succeed in accomplishing their goal of victory, the other half is overlooked. This other half of athletic enjoyment is reacting to whatever occurs in the process. When a team enters a playing area it sets out as a squad. The competition then brings together the players, coaches and fans to produce a greater team. They react together and show the same pressures. Perhaps, sports accomplish what no other facet of life does—it takes a mass of people and molds them into a force of enthusiasm.
The following pages are a tribute to such a force.

Coaching Staff

Football coaches have three goals: teaching football techniques, seeing them successful, and instilling in players a pride for themselves and the school. At Norwood, this is accomplished starting with preseason drills and weightlifting, and continues through four building years until their final game as seniors.

When the Indians were defeated, it wasn't by pride.

Coach Orloff reflects on whether to take the penalty or to decline it.

Norwood's Indians were not expected to have a great showing against obviously better teams in 1969. The Injuns, however, had a constant sense of pride which is stressed at Norwood. At times they experienced both frustration and hopelessness, but they were determined. Victory was not found in the scores, but in the effort exerted by the boys.

Increased effort

The Varsity was 6-13 for the season. The men had speed and agility; they lacked only depth. New head coach Bob Gardner pulled the Indians from seven straight defeats to an incredible double-overtime victory against Oxford Talawanda. The team showed determination and strength as they lost six games in the final minutes of play; they won three of four overtime contests. Senior Doug Cochran led in regular season points with an 11.8 average. Mike Lack led in rebounds with 153 to Rick Merrill's 151; Lack also made 47% of his shots. Jim Bouldin had 65 assists while defending well, and Kenny Colyer made 72% of his free-throws.

Coach Jim Ballinger's reserves had a tremendous 14-4 season, making it the third best record in school history. Chuck Benjamin led offensively and Rick Dickson took defense honors. Jeff Northcutt was greatly improved and should represent the team's improvement over the next two years.

Freshman Basketball

BACK ROW: Mr. Bouldin, coach; K. Smith, manager; T. Atkins, manager; B. Ryan, manager. SECOND ROW: D. Hill, G. Giacai, L. Parker, C. Hatfield, J. Stanton, G. Sutton, R. Roy. FRONT ROW: N. Lane, P. Stonecipher, G. Becknell, B. Boyd, L. Fischer, C. Hull, J. Smith, T. Haunert.

Eight wins to six losses was the product of Coach Dick Bouldin's freshmen "roundballers." The young cagers shone on offense with agile Neil Lane and sharp shooting Charlie Hall and Charlie Hatfield. Hall and Hatfield were also defensive standouts because of their size.

Varsity Wrestling

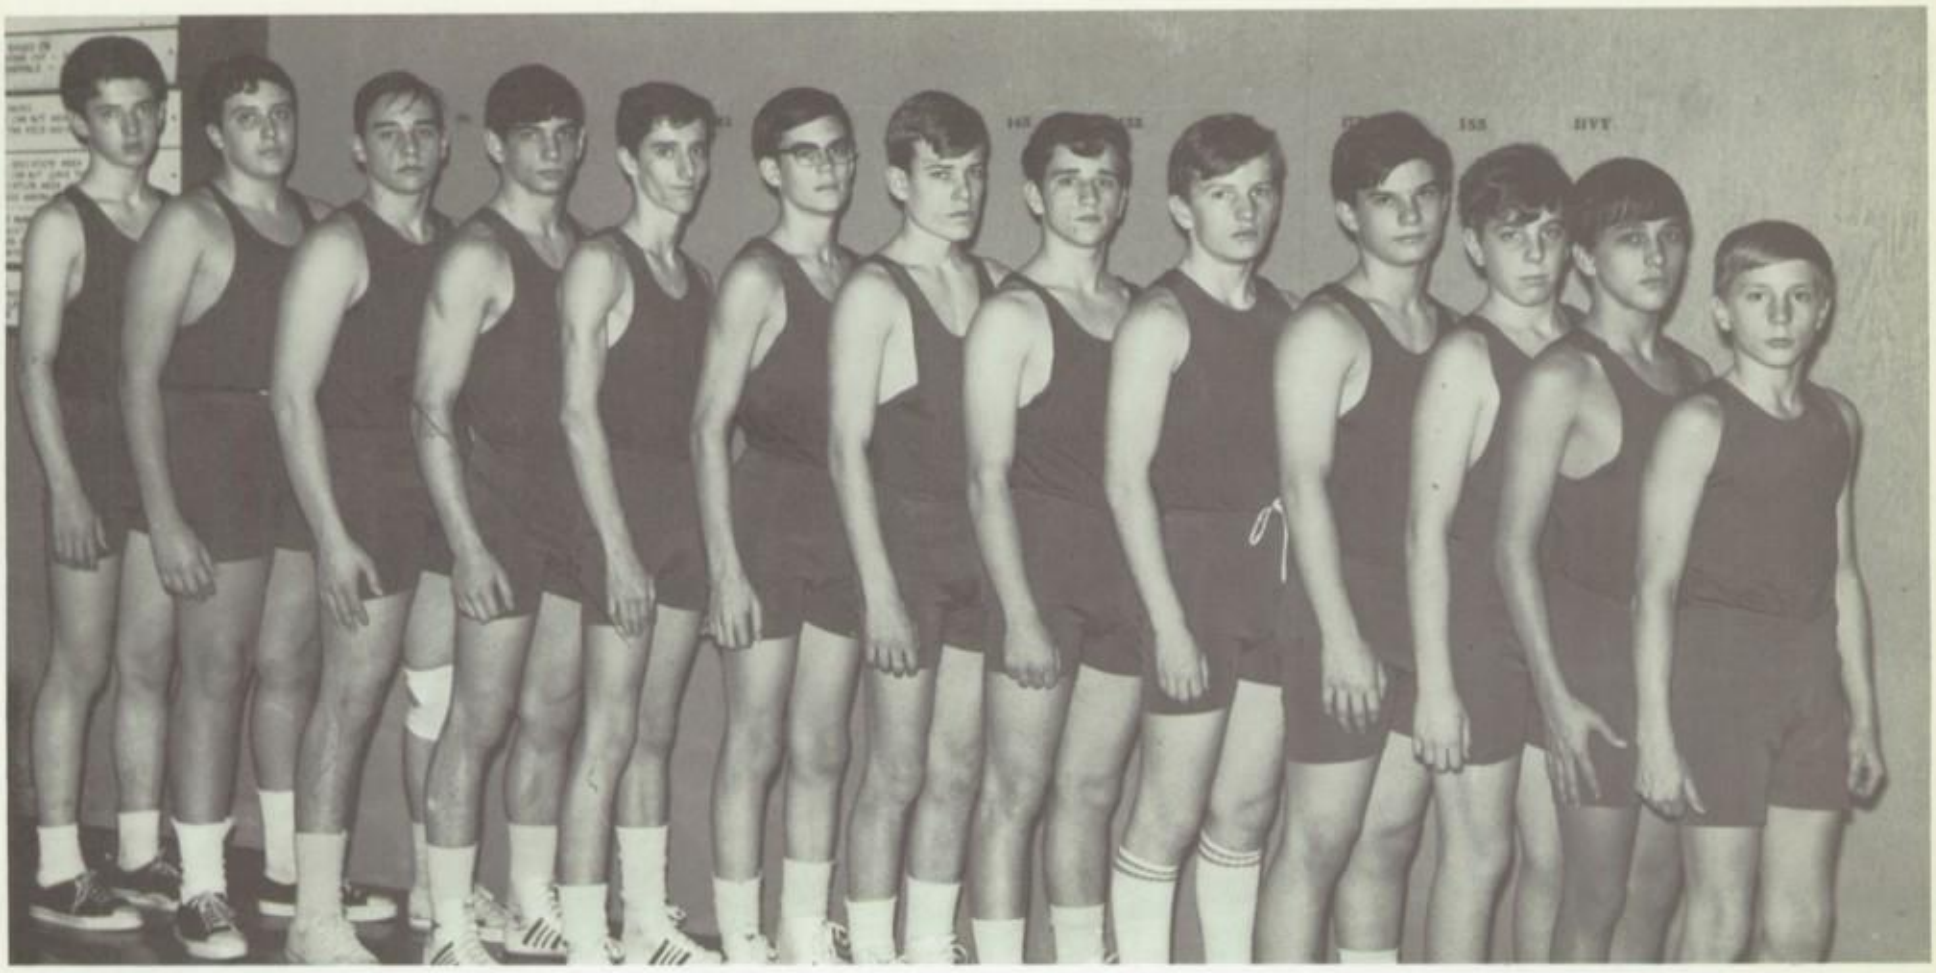
R. Wright, R. Huff, J. Nickson, R. Blaine, M. McLane, D. Cross, J. Fennell, B. Taylor, T. Cooper, D. Ballou, K. Steger.

The varsity captured third place in the league, fourth in the Princeton Invitational and seventh in the district with a 9-4 season match record. Outstanding matmen in the totally underclassmen squad were: Ken Steger (State Competition); Tom Cooper; Dave Ballou, Don Fitzgerald and Joe Simon.

Reserve Wrestling

G. Altman, B. Wright, W. Wall, J. Simon, D. Elliot, B. McErlane, D. Fitzgerald, M. Sexon, M. Bryce, B. Hedge, J. Cook.

With a 12-3 league record this past year, many reserves are sure to be standouts on next year's varsity. The men who starred this year as Indians were as follows: Ken Fitzgerald, Gary Steger, Gary Altman, Dave Elliot, Keith Wright, and Jim Cook.



The freshman matmen had a spotless 9-0 season slate. All of these young men should contribute much to the reserve and varsity next year. If they follow school tradition, they are sure to make a fine showing in their remaining three years as N.H.S. wrestlers.

Freshman Wrestling

R. Loy, S. Hall, K. Wright, K. Watson, K. Fitzgerald, J. Schad, D. Petrey, S. Pelfrey, D. Strunk, G. Steger, D. Rodder, J. Lay, J. Wilson.

Coach Distler's swimming squad compiled a 6-5 record, the first winning season in its four year existence. Captain Marty Clark and sophomore Jim Crocker led in points while the entire team placed fourth in the HCSL. Five individuals brought home bronze medals from the district.

Cross Country

With twenty-five of its twenty-six runners underclassmen, Mr. Ballinger's Cross Country squad made a strong showing and promise as a league champion next year. The men finished fourth in league action and by placing fourth in district meets compiled a 7-1 season slate.

Track

Don Daly's 1969 runners established three school records during a 7-1 season. Dan Willging set a new discus mark, Larry Bennett had a pole vault record, and sophomore Mike Lack ran the fastest 150 yard high hurdles in the history of Norwood High School.

Gary Gillespie, two mile runner.

Mike Lack, high hurdles.

Stan Quay, shotput.

1969 Varsity Baseball

A strong team attitude mixed with an esprit de corps made the 1969 Varsity Baseball season a success. Captain Ron Steger under the direction of Coach Ron Jones led the team to 10 games won and 8 lost. Bruce Criswell was voted most valuable player of the year.

1969 Reserve Baseball

Under the supervision of Coach Jay Geiser the 1969 Reserve Baseball team finished the season with 7 games won and 7 lost. Although the win-loss record does not show good results, Coach Geiser felt it did not truly represent the good attitude and hard work the men put into their games.

BACK ROW: T. Hinkle, M. Keller, M. Bryce, C. Fischer, G. Sasser, C. Benjamin, M. Worland, Jay Geiser, coach. FRONT ROW: J. Northcutt, R. Compton, R. Blaine, D. Buchanan, J. Geiser, D. Sennett, J. Wilkerson, B. Clift.

Cheerleaders

The spirit building of Norwood was boosted by Varsity cheerleaders captained by Kathy Barber and advised by Miss Betty Ware.

Other activities consisted of making signs and teepees, selling pennants and ribbons, and having pep rallies. The Reserve and Freshman cheerleaders also ably led the fans in supporting their respective teams.

Girls' Athletic Association

The 1969-70 Girls' Athletic Association was headed by senior Joyce Bennett with the supervision of Mrs. Nancy Wickemeyer and Miss Nancy Butterfield, the girls' physical education teachers. As in the past G.A.A.'s main money-making project has been selling food at Norwood High School's concession stand during the football season. Eight clubs from Norwood High School profited from this project. Along with this activity, G.A.A. held different sports for all girls in grades 9-12 after school. This years sports line-up included hockey, archery, softball, swimming, basketball, gymnastics, and a new addition—fencing. Every year the club chooses a girl who has excelled in a certain sport to become the manager of that sport. Again this year G.A.A. sponsored volleyball tournaments between homerooms during the last part of the first semester. The winning homeroom was presented with a trophy and played against the faculty one night. G.A.A. ended the school year with a sports banquet, where the newly elected officers for the forthcoming year were announced and special sports awards outstanding skill and service were presented to the deserving girls.

N Club

N Club is composed of those young men who have earned in their respective sports, a varsity or reserve letter, and who wish to further certain goals of Norwood High School athletes. These goals are attained in the same way as sports are played: through self-discipline, desire for competition, and encouragement of one's self as well as others. These goals are to promote athletics and team spirit. Since sports are such a strong part of Norwood High life, N Club is one of the strongest organizations in the school. The members met on the second Tuesday of every month this year, and with their advisor, Mr. Donald Littman, held many worthwhile activities. Among these activities which they planned were included a hayride, a paperdrive, initiation of new members, and a banquet for its members in the spring. Officers elected for the past year were: Dan Horn, president; James Browning, vice president; Bill Hollifield, secretary; and Steve Schwankhaus, treasurer.

HOO'S
WITH Y

Although each student strives for academic achievement, there is something equally important—extracurricular activities. By being a member of various clubs and organizations a student learns things that a textbook can't teach; he learns the meaning of fellowship, leadership, and service for himself. These ideas that he learns outside of the classroom are also ideas that can't be measured on a report card. An active member will not gain medals of recognition but something more important: personal satisfaction, self-confidence, and integrity. After four years of dedicated participation in clubs and activities, an N.H.S. graduate discovers his interest in people and his ability to get along with others.

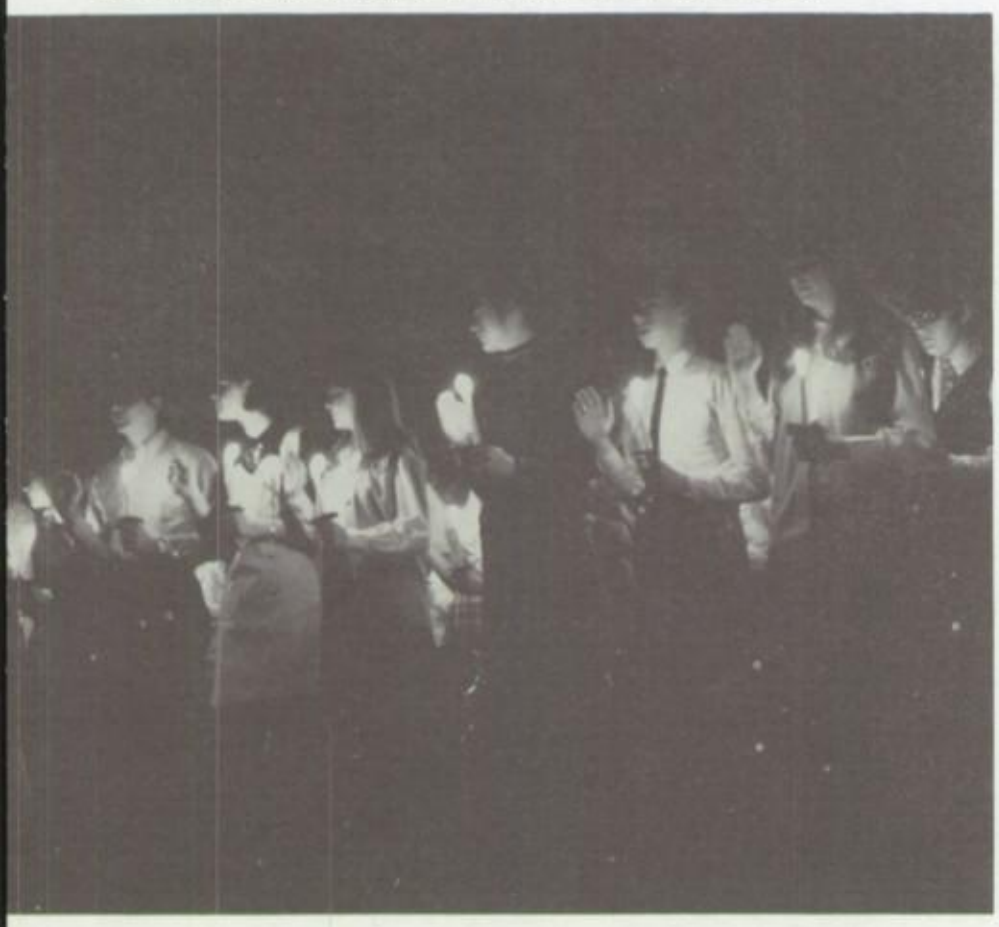
The lighted torch is a symbol of National Honor Society.



National Honor Society

Members are chosen for the Norwood Chapter of the National Honor Society in recognition of their outstanding scholarship, leadership, service and character. At each yearly induction ceremony ten per cent of the junior class and five per cent of the senior class are elected to the club. This year forty-three new members were chosen and their names went on record in Washington, D.C. Throughout the year the National Honor Society was engaged in various activities. Under the leadership of President Steve Schwankhaus with the assistance of Gary Telecsan, vice president, Anna Jones, secretary, and Chris Croweak, treasurer, and the advisorship of Miss Mariel Sayre, the club worked for the school bond campaign, held several bake sales, a car wash, and was responsible for the cleaning of classroom flags. To build school spirit, the club sponsored a bonfire before our homecoming game. The club's scholarship banners were presented to homerooms with the highest scholastic average of each grade level. Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor that a high school student can earn and symbolizes great achievement.

Student Council

Joann Cook, secretary; Sue Hipkins, vice president; Darrell Clark, president; and Caroline Zimmerman, treasurer.

Passing by room 206 on Wednesday mornings, Norwood High School students heard the discussions of the Student Council. Under the supervision of Mr. Lawson and the leadership of President Darrell Clark, Student Council worked diligently to promote student interests at Norwood. The Council backed the bond issue, topped their Community Chest goal and sold Indian decals. They also worked to revise the constitution of the Student Council and discussed the possibility of a trip to Washington. This year marked the beginning of a new method of selecting Student Council representatives. The old idea of individual homeroom representation was abandoned because of the difficulty of working with such a large group. Instead, the twenty-nine members were elected by their entire class in an election which resulted in a smaller, more efficient Student Council. Other officers elected were: Sue Hipkins, vice president; Joann Cook, secretary; and Caroline Zimmerman, treasurer. All members worked to achieve a successful year for Norwood High's Student Council.

1970 Silhouette

The planning of the SILHOUETTE began the moment the new editors were selected in their junior year. Everyone on the staff developed ideas of how the yearbook should look and during the summer meetings everyone put their ideas together to organize a uniform theme. The success of the yearbook relies on a good theme and a book that completely fits the theme. The next step was the trip to the printer in Nashville, where the editors, Carol Arnold and Denise Pettit, and the advisor, Miss Smith, spent much time in conference to decide print, type, and how the yearbook would fit together best.

As photography days were completed a new cycle of work began. The pictures were chosen, cropped, and students names were checked. After the pictures were taken, the co-literary editors wrote the captions and stories.

Unforeseen emergencies stood in the way of many deadlines, but the final deadline was what counted most. So the book, with the leadership of the editors and cooperation of the rest of the staff, promises to be one of the best ever.

The Mirror

Aided by Miss Barbara Barnhill, the Mirror staff published and distributed fifteen issues of interesting and informative data.

Co-editors, Kathy Stephens and Debbie Wade, head the seventeen member staff in maintaining the high standards of the Mirror—"A Reflection of Norwood High School."

In order for the staff to get a head start on their important job, their work began at the end of the summer.

Although the staff kept with the traditional Christmas and Senior issues, changes have been made. As noticed by all students, the Mirror had a new look; it contained more color, more sketches, and was in the form of a magazine. Besides a change in the style of the Mirror, there was a change in the staff; a girls' sports editor and a managing editor were two helpful additions.

The Mirror is financed by subscriptions, advertisements, and other money-making projects under the direction of the business and circulation managers.

In order for the staff to meet their deadlines, each paper had to be prepared at least two weeks in advance of the final distribution. Collecting news, typing stories, reading copy, and devising headlines are the preliminary steps. The papers are returned from the printer, then folded, checked, counted, and delivered.

After completely reading the paper by seventh bell, the students expectantly await for the next edition of the Mirror.

Spanish Club

All interested Spanish students may join Norwood High School's Spanish Club. One of the largest organizations in the school, it had one hundred and twenty members. With Mr. Merrill Wynn as the club's advisor, the group sponsored several activities. Now in its thirty-second year, Spanish Club held its annual Christmas party at Norwood High School. Betty Hurt provided the pinatas which were filled with candy for the occasion. The pinatas were broken with sticks and freed the contents in true Spanish and Mexican tradition. The Spanish Club planned a spring activity in cooperation with the two other language clubs. The past activity was an inter-club picnic at a park. Spanish Club also planned a fund raising project. For the past year the officers were Tom Murrell as president, Randy Coots as vice president, Chris Christian as secretary, and Betty Hurt as treasurer. Through the club a greater appreciation of Spanish was gained.

Spanish Honor Society

Working extra hard was rewarded for the Spanish students who maintained a "B" average for his second, third, or fourth year of Spanish. This enabled the student to join the "Amado Nervo" Chapter of National Spanish honor Society of Norwood High School. At a dinner, planned by the officers and with the aid of Mr. Merrill Wynn, the advisor, the new members were inducted. They received membership certificates at the formal dinner preceeded by an induction ceremony. By their additional effort the students obtained a true understanding of the people and the language, with the guidance of Mr. Wynn who had visited Spain.

French Club

French Club was composed of sixty enthusiastic members from French I, II, and III classes. Under the direction of Mrs. Diane Matticks, French Club had a very active year. The club's two main money making projects consisted of selling class year buttons and notecards. Both projects turned out to be very successful. The club had a Christmas party at the Norwood Christian Church. A banquet, where new officers were announced, was held in the spring. The writing of letters to children in France was another activity of the club. The 1969-70 officers were president, Dave Krieger; vice president, Dana Sweet; treasurer, Brenda Horsley; and secretary, Dan Lovitt.

Latin Club

Latin Club, meeting every other Wednesday, came to order with Caroline Zimmerman as president, Charlotte Croweak as vice president, Terry Phelps as secretary, John Schwankhaus as treasurer, Katy Henderson as program chairman, and Miss Eileen Parris, advisor. The members discussed money-making projects such as their annual Norwood High School button sale, baked goods sale, and other business including a successful car wash in late fall. The club rewarded itself with a Halloween party. For Thanksgiving the members decided to participate in the spirit by collecting food for a basket. Christmas was celebrated with a party, held at the Norwood Christian Church, which was gaily decorated for the festivity. To end the year in Roman style, the club continued their annual Roman Banquet. Both members and alumni donned togas and sandals to revive the traditions and customs of the ancient classical world. A Roman play was enacted by Latin students for an understanding of the language.

Future Teachers of America

This year with the guidance of President Patty Wells and advisors Miss Dianne Domaschko and Mr. Lynn Adams, Future Teachers has done many things. All the projects were discussed with the officers Lora Tripp, vice president; Lora Costello, secretary; and Ed Umbach, treasurer; at board and committee meetings. The first big project of the year was Christmas caroling. The members made up small boxes of candy which were presented to those visited. Future Teachers decided to give a scholarship to one of the senior members of the club. It consisted of a three hundred dollar scholarship and was presented during the honors assembly. The year closed with the F.T.A. banquet and a teaching day. All junior and senior members were allowed to teach at either the high school or at a Norwood grade school. The banquet featured the election results and installation of the 1970-1971 officers. All in all, Future Teachers had a good and prosperous year.

A team practices for debate tournament.

Varsity Debaters

This is the fourth year the Varsity Debaters have been in existence at Norwood High. Under the skillful leadership of Al Tudor and new faculty advisor, Mrs. Sara Alley, the debaters participated in debate tournaments throughout the state. The club worked hard gathering material for this year's topic which dealt with foreign policy. Along with the other officers, co-captain, Dennis Petrey; secretary, Judy Baker; and treasurer Randy Parsons; the members of the club had slave days and bake sales in order to raise money to send two debaters to the debate summer workshop at Ohio University, in Athens. They learned more about next year's topic and improved their debating abilities by exchanging information with other debaters throughout Ohio. Membership drives were conducted in both the fall and spring. All interested students were given time to observe the responsibilities of club members before they were inducted into the Norwood chapter of the National Foernsic League.

Hi-Y Teen Council

The Hi-Y Teen Council is conducted by senior, Phyllis Spaw who is president of Delta Epsilon and senior, Darrell Clark who is president of Alpha Sigma Kappa Hi-Y. The Hi-Y Teen Council consisted of elected representatives from each of the two Norwood Y-Teen groups. The purpose of the Hi-Y Teen Council was to form a parallel between the activities conducted by the girls' group and the activities conducted by the boys' group. One of the successful and more enjoyable events was a Valentine Dance featured after a basketball game. Both of Norwood's Y-Teen groups equally participated in and equally sponsored the Valentine Dance.

Alpha Sigma Kappa Hi-Y, consisting of thirty-five members, chose officers Darrell Clark, president; Dan Asher, vice president; Bill Borin, secretary; and Andy Patterson, treasurer; to guide them through the year and Ken Cundiff to act as the official chaplain of the group. With the faculty supervision of Mr. Jack Distler, the club met every Wednesday night at eight o'clock at the Norwood Y.M.C.A. branch. The group entered basketball competition at the Tri-City Hi-Y level and donated money to the world services program. The club's money-making projects consisted of a victory dance after a football game and a bake sale in the front hall. This charity and fellowship club proved to be extremely successful this past year.

Hi-Y Teens

This year the two previous Y-Teen groups, Gamma Alpha Chi and Delta Epsilon, combined to form one club, the Norwood Hi-Y Teens. The club had several money-making undertakings. The traditional potato chip sale was replaced by a sale of plastic tote bags. They also operated the mobile book store, held a "Steady Game," and sponsored several dances at the Y. Besides social activities, the club was active in service projects. Completely responsible for the Easter program at the high school, they planned and presented the service. As a service project, the group took an orphan girl, outfitted her and accompanied her to church on Easter Sunday. At the end of the year the Hi-Y Teens group presented a fifty dollar book scholarship to a deserving senior. The officers for the past year were: Phyllis Spaw, president; Andrea Lands, vice president; Melissa Barrett, secretary; and Terry Phelps, treasurer. The advisor for the year was Mrs. McCulla.

Office Co-ops

Office Co-ops provides an efficient means for a student to earn money and to gain experience in the business world while he completes his high school education. Under the leadership of senior Bev Merkhofer, and the guidance of Mr. Dietz, the Office Co-ops chose to work in offices during the morning or afternoon and to go to school during the alternating time. The highlight of the year was an employer-employee banquet. This banquet was held for the purpose of showing students' appreciation to their employers. New officers for the coming year were also announced. Representatives elected from the co-op program attended a state conference during the year at which time they learned new and varying ideas from other commercial co-op programs throughout the country.

Distributive Co-ops

Distributive education has been a work-study program for seniors under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Sheppard. They earned while they learned by attending classes in the morning and by holding jobs during the afternoon or evening. During the year they put their knowledge to use by decorating the windows outside the Distributive Education room. Materials for these displays were supplied by local merchants. Social activities during the year included sales demonstration contests, guest speakers in the field of retailing, and two or three field trips to areas of business.

Cosmetology Club

The actual setting and styling of hair came only after many classroom hours. The "cosmo" girls first learned about the construction of hair, trade formation, and business practice. The students also learned such things as how to color treat hair and which styles are best for the individual. After many hours of study, the girls received paying customers at the fully equipped cosmetology department. This turned classroom study into actual experience. The time spent in the shop enabled them to accumulate the hours necessary to take their State Board Examinations. The Cosmetology Club sold candy to raise the money necessary to make the trip to Columbus as a group to take the test. The passing of the test is required to receive a license enabling them to practice. The Norwood High School cosmetology program has been unique because the students receive a complete education in hair design. Students can begin working immediately upon graduation.

Cuisine Club

The long road to becoming an accomplished chef began with classroom study. The boys, consisting of eight juniors and eight seniors, studied cooking math, cooking science, trade information, and food science. Their teacher, Mr. Robert Haines, wrote the textbook which they used as many other schools have both in the United States and England. The students put their knowledge to actual practice through the use of the Tearoom. Complete meals were prepared twice weekly by the students for the teachers and their guests. Special dinners were prepared for Norwood's various clubs. At Christmas and in the spring elaborate buffets were prepared. When special guests came to Norwood they were often invited to 116, the Tearoom. In the course, the boys learned how to be a chef in a restaurant or hotels. They put their knowledge to the test when they worked in Annette's, Chequers, or the Maisonette, and many have permanent jobs arranged before graduation.

Senior Auto Shop

Larry Lyons, serving as president of the senior auto shop, directed his fellow members this year in the completion of their education towards becoming good mechanics. The boys in senior auto shop put the knowledge gained in junior auto shop to both effective and practical use by exercising such chores as repairing cars owned by various citizens of Norwood, and by operating much like a commercial auto repair institution functions today. The group complemented its knowledge of automobile repair with courses in auto science and mathematics.

Junior Auto Shop

Junior Auto Shop members entered into the machinist's way of life in their junior year of high school with the expectation of concluding that training in their senior year. The boys started the year by learning the nomenclature and use of various tools and gauges used by professional automobile mechanics today. The members studied the science involved in the understanding of automobile parts, and their functions. They concluded the year by using the knowledge they had attained in disassembling and reassembling automobile engines and applying that knowledge to exercises and duties distributed to them by their supervisor, Mr. Adelsperger. Junior auto shop prepares students for more advanced methods of training which faces members of senior auto shop.

Machine Shop

The Machine Shop exists for the purposes to train students in the fields of operation and anatomy of various machines found within the shop. The boys in machine shop formed a club to engage in an extracurricular activity of common interest to fellow members and to grasp upon the information learned in machine shop, and extend that information to apply to well-paying jobs requiring a background of such a profession. The group planned class trips to a variety of factories and mills to see for themselves how efficiently machines are put to use today. Mr. Sherer served as the group's faculty advisor.

Electricity Club

Under the direction of Mr. George White, Electricity Club, composed of boys in electricity shop, increases its members knowledge of electronics. The boys worked throughout the year with controls, motors, and residential wiring. The electricity club served Norwood High School by handling the lighting during the dramatic productions held in the school auditorium. During the year businessmen interviewed members, considering them as future employees or candidates for post-high school training. The boys also engaged in various other activities. These included playing basketball as a club and holding a breakfast in Millcrest Park. The boys hope to use their training in future fields of endeavor.

Majorettes

The 1969-70 Majorettes led by Captain Sue Hipkins performed original routines at half time activities of football games. The majorettes, who designed their own costumes, performed in parades, at the bon-fire, and at Miami University. A performance at a basketball game completed the season. To qualify for a majorette a girl must be in her sophomore, junior, or senior year of high school, and must know the basic positions. At one football game the girls performed with fire batons displaying their talent. The majorettes, guiding their batons with steady hands, complemented the half-time shows with a performance of precision marching and twirling achieved through regular practices.

Indianettes

Under the direction of Miss Barber, the Indianettes, Norwood's precision line, highlighted half time at the basketball games with their performances. This year the girls sported new uniforms including an Indian headband, moccasins, blue jumpers with the red letters NHS and white blouses. The girls performed at most of the home games. Their routines were organized this year by two senior members, Zoe Judd and Sharon McDonald. On senior night each senior member was recognized and presented a corsage. To be chosen for the honor of marching as Indianettes, the girls performed routines at several tryouts to prove their ability to keep time with the music.

Choir

Acquainting themselves with a new director are the sixty members of choir. Mrs. Judith White, now reigning over the vocal department, spent sixth period teaching the choir pitch, blend, and tone. Choir provided excellent music for Thanksgiving, Christmas, the grade schools, the Spring Concert, and any occasion the calendar presented.

Junior Choir

With the objective of learning to read music and to carry individual parts, the Junior Choir was very impressive this year. Mrs. Judith White was supervisor and Becky Schwarberg accompanied the sixty freshmen on the piano. For the first time, Junior Choir members sang in the Christmas program; their second appearance was in the Spring Concert. Junior Choir taught the basic rules for good singing and a successful performance. These rules were then applied and used for advanced training in the Choir the following year. Many of the freshmen will advance to the Senior Choir and will remember their first days as high school performers.

Chorus

Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Judith White, was in its second year at Norwood High School. The twelve girls in the group spent fifth bell perfecting their tone and increasing their vocal range. With this small of a group, Mrs. White has been able to work individually with each girl. At the Christmas program Chorus was the efficient stage crew. The Spring Concert brought Chorus to the attention of the school as a performing group. Many of the girls have greatly improved their voices in the past year. Hopefully, many of the Chorus members will be performing next year in choir.

Baker's Dozen

Under the guidance of Mrs. White, the thirteen members of the Baker's Dozen met every Tuesday night at seven-thirty and on occasional weekends to develop their singing techniques and vowel sounds. Civic meetings, church clubs, PTA meetings, Christmas caroling, the Christmas program itself, and the Spring Concert were all included within the schedules of the group which emphasized light singing throughout the year.

Girls' Glee Club

Meeting on Tuesday and Thursday each week, the one hundred ten members of Girls' Glee Club prepared for the annual Christmas program and Spring Concert. Director Mrs. White taught the girls how to better their vowels, consonants, and breathing which aided them in tone and blend. Members were only required to meet once a week, but many attended both days. The officers this year were: Terry Benz, president; Joy Morgan, treasurer; and Rebecca Rutland, librarian.

Orchestra

Composed of the elite of the marching band, the orchestra played an important part in Norwood High School's music department. Only those members who have achieved excellence in an understanding of their various musical instruments are admitted into the organization. Under the supervision of Mr. Phillips, the group practiced their musical techniques during seventh bell band sessions and after school. The members were required to transpose a musical composition and to make it available to fellow members for performance. The orchestra performed during the Senior Class Play, Come Out of the Closet, during the musical production of Oklahoma and at the annual Spring Concert.

Mixed Ensemble

Donning their red blazers and cheerful smiles was the Mixed Ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Judith White. The spiciness in their expertly chosen blending voices echoed through the hearts of many who watched as Ensemble displayed their version of togetherness at Christmas. A touch of coziness was added by the use of scenery and props in the annual Christmas program which spread the season's spirit. Having a late start did not hinder this group, for each worked doubly hard and made each engagement a tremendous success. Time consuming practices made Ensemble into a family for it presented many exciting incidents and much time together.

Band

Under the skillful direction of Mr. Richard White, the 1969-70 edition of the Norwood High School Marching Band consisted of seventy musicians who met every day seventh bell to master the precision drills and formations for each week's show. The NHS Marching Band proved a large factor in establishing the high spirit which permeated the student body throughout the football season. Songs ranging from "Let the Sunshine In" to "Talk to the Animals" were performed at half time at each home game and all but one away game. Traveling to Miami again this year, the Band participated along with other schools in the annual Miami University Band Day. A mid-winter concert was held with the Junior Band in February and the year closed with the Spring Concert. Terry Gray led Band Council in discussion of band activities.

Pep Club

Pep club has been more active this year than past years due to the leadership of its officers: Donna Wilson, president; Terry Benz, vice president; Lynn Noland, secretary; and Caroline Zimmerman as treasurer. Mrs. Kalkbrenner was advisor for the club. Originality was evident in the signs and posters decorating the halls and cafeteria. Charlie Brown and his friends provided the theme for many of the amusing pep signs. The football field was adorned with signs showing the schools support as well as the fieldhouse for our basketball team. Banners pledged our backing to the wrestlers, the swimmers, and the trackmen. Pep club sponsored several pep rallies to display our active support. Other activities included the selling of round balls to decorate car antennas, and a book scholarship to a deserving senior.

Art Club

For the first time in Norwood High School history an art club was formed. The Art Club, under the direction of Mr. Gary May, consisted of students who have a real interest in art. To become a member, the student must submit work he has done and have it approved by the art teacher. The students have two main objectives: to help other students develop their art skills, and to bring more art appreciation to Norwood High School. While doing this, the members also entered their paintings, drawings and other pieces of art work in art shows all over the city for pleasure and awards.

Esprit

Norwood High School's literary magazine, Esprit, was in its second year of publication this year. With the help of Miss Margaret Guentert, the magazine's advisor, the Esprit staff sought to gather some of the better pieces of writing done by talented freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. To help finance the cost of the magazine, several bake sales and car washes were held and again this year a patronage drive was conducted. Sheila Freyhof was editor-in-chief with Anna Jones as fiction editor and Caroline Zimmerman as non-fiction editor. Karen Myers and Gary Gillespie were the poetry co-editors and Patty Wells was the business manager.

Synopsis

Fall Activities began year with enthusiasm

School ends more enjoyably with a candy apple sale.

Grease paint is slapped on policemen for their parts in the Senior Class Play.

As school began at Norwood High School so did fall activities. Fall sports, football and cross country, occupied the time of students, as participants or spectators. Homecoming was an event enjoyed by all. Red Flannels Day, sponsored by Girls' Council, set the fashion scene for fall. Politics and democracy were demonstrated in the election of class officers. The Senior Class Play ended the season with its usual success.

Debbie Wade and Mr. Geselbracht carry out one of Norwood's most privileged traditions.

The Dave Martin Orchestra provides music for a delightful evening.

The 1969 Junior Prom

The planning of the Junior Prom began months ahead of the set date with all juniors voting on the theme, the place, and after prom activities. The winning theme, "Arabian Nights," was artfully conveyed by well-done decorations. The halls were decorated with lanterns, paper camels, tents, and Arabs. The tables each had an elaborate candle centerpiece. Each girl received a signature book to add to her remembrances of a beautiful evening.

The highlight of the evening was when the junior class president, Beverly Merkhofer, announced Phyllis Spaw and Debbie Wade tieing as queens. Darrell Clark, vice president of the class, and Steve Schwankhaus, the treasurer, took over the duties of kissing the queens and of presenting them with their flowers, gifts, crowns, and the traditional dance. The 1969 Junior Prom was indeed one of the greatest successes through the work of Bev Merkhofer and the entire junior class.

The bonfire marks the beginning of Homecoming festivities.

The 1969 Homecoming activities began Thursday with a bonfire. Friday the Norwood Indians fought against the Anderson Redskins on a warm October evening. During half time the radiant candidates for Homecoming Queen were introduced to the Indian fans. The dance was held on the following evening in the fieldhouse to the music of the Quotations. As the couples danced and mingled, the signs of the Zodiac, made by the Junior class, were reflected throughout the fieldhouse. Tension and suspense grew as Darrell Clark, Student Council president, announced Lynn Noland, sponsored by Projectionists, as the 1969 Homecoming Queen. The runners-up were Sharon McDonald and Kathy Barber. Homecoming 1969 created memories for all participants.

"Come Out of the Closet"

Three girls rent a gloomy, run-down apartment in New York. The money-mad landlady charges rent per person so they have to hide Jenny in the closet in order to afford the apartment. Amidst a houseful of weird neighbors, such as Mr. Cutter, who comes storming into their kitchen several times a night to get a bottle for his baby, the girls find little time to rest. Then there is Guthrie Rosewater, the poet, and his muse Abbie Phillips, who is constantly having seizures. Jenny brings home a taxi driver to protect the girls from a prowler seen by Jenny the night before. All these factors combined with the efforts of the crews and directors, made Come Out of the Closet the biggest success ever with "standing room only" and twelve breaks for applause.

Winter furnishes various activities . . .

A summary of winter activities wouldn't be complete without mentioning the large role of the Christmas season, as it affects students and teachers, alike. As everyone at school was busy planning for the annual Christmas assembly and the display of classroom door decorations, the two week Christmas vacation was joyfully welcomed by all. It wasn't long after vacation that the students began their preparation for semester exams at the end of January. In February the student body grew tense as the selections of National Honor Society were made. The excitement and fascination of the winter sports, basketball, wrestling, and swimming, occupied the time and effort of many.

One of the many Norwood traditions to celebrate Christmas is the door decorations.

Vocal and instrumental music combined for secular side of the Christmas program.

Pep Band boosts the spirit of fans, cheerleaders, and especially the basketball team.

New and old members of National Honor Society enjoy the tea held for the new members.

Second Production of Oklahoma proves a Success.

The curtain is down, the final curtain call has been taken, the applause begins to die down, and Norwood High School's second production of Oklahoma is over.

But the musical is not over for every person who was part of it. The play will live on in the memories of all participants as a great experience.

Oklahoma was born at try-outs. After many days, the cast and chorus were chosen, and the long practices began. Soon the crews were chosen. The long grueling practices went on while the orchestra also practiced for the final performance. New friendships and fun made the production of Oklahoma a success at Norwood High School.

Competition

Knute Rockne, perhaps the most famous football coach of all time, once said:

I don't like to lose, and that isn't so much because it is just a football game, but because defeat means the failure to reach your objective. I don't want a football player who doesn't take defeat to heart, who laughs it off with the thought, "Oh well, there's another Saturday."

The trouble in American life today, in business as well as in sports, is that too many people are afraid of competition. The result is that in some circles people have come to sneer at success if it costs hard work and training sacrifice.

I say, let them sneer all they want. Nothing beats hard work, sacrifice and success!

Brotherly Love

A young boy met with a serious accident. He suffered great loss of blood. His older brother was called to the hospital and prepared for a blood transfusion. The father had driven him to the hospital in a hurry and had not explained what the transfusion meant. Upon arrival he donned the hospital garb and lay down next to his brother. The needle was inserted in his left arm and he watched his pallid brother lying unconscious beside him. Then he looked up at the doctor who was making the transfusion and said as seriously as a young boy could say anything, "When do I croak, Doc?" The boy's mother wept and so did the nurses. The two men blinked their eyes and the doctor asked for a towel to remove something from his eye. Someone said, "No greater love hath man than this, that a man lay down his life for his brother."

Motivation

If we take everything we do as important, and a matter of life and death, then no one will outdistance us. But if what we do has no higher motivation than fun, or making a living, then the race is often lost before it's begun.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union

Congratulates the graduates of 1970

In this year people talk much of "POLLUTION":—

AIR POLLUTION—while they pour more tobacco and chemical smoke and motor fumes into the air and cut down trees that purify it.

Water Pollution—while they pulled up and filled up wells and drank sewer water treated with chemicals.

Personal pollution—while they used more caffeine (coffee and cola), nicotine (cigarettes, snuff, smoking and chewing tobacco and black leaf 40 sprays), more alcohol, LSD, cold tars, PCP, heroin, marijuana, other drugs, and poison DDT sprays on vegetables and fruits, to defile their bodies.

People ignore God's counsel:—"Keep Thyself Pure."

An end or a beginning?

There was a time when a high school diploma could be considered an end — sufficient education for the job ahead. But no more. Not in these days of ever-advancing technology and intense individual competition. Now, whether you're planning on a white-collar or blue-collar job, the requirements are much the same — more knowledge, more skills, more education. And that means study beyond high school.

The decision is yours. Make it carefully, for it will probably be the most important one you'll ever make. We at Allis-Chalmers hope it will be for further study. Deeply involved in space-age technology ourselves, we know first-hand the crucial importance of special skills and education. Just as you will, in the future—when it counts.

Courage

Whatever you do, you need courage. Whatever course you decide upon, there is always someone to tell you that you are wrong. There are always difficulties arising which tempt you to believe that your critics are right.

To map out a course of action and follow it to an end requires some of the same courage which a soldier needs. Peace has its victories, but it takes brave men to win them.

Purpose

A purpose gives meaning to life. It is like the hub in a wheel—with every spoke fitted into it to make a strong and perfect circle. Without such a hub, spokes will not radiate evenly and your wheel will lack strength; it will tend to break apart on the first good bump it hits. Given a strong hub, a strong purpose, a person can take a surprising number of shocks and bumps on the outside rim without sustaining permanent damage.

As we watch the time slip through our hour glass at Norwood, we realize how swiftly time will go in the future. As seniors we advise underclassmen to grasp the informal moments at Norwood for they are what make silhouettes so successful. This book was designed to keep these informal moments in our hearts to refer to in years following. We hope we have accomplished this goal to the satisfaction of the entire student body.
